The Father of President Johnson. Fifty-three years ago the following obituary notice of President Johnson's father

(January 10, 1812) appeared in the Raleigh

(N. C.) Star;
Died in this city, on Saturday last, Jacob Johnson, who had for many years occupied an humble but useful station in society. He was city constable, sexton, and porter to the State bank. In his last illness he was visited by the principal inhabitants of the city, by all of whom he was esteemed for his honesty, sobriety, industry, and humane, friendly disposition. Among all to whom he was known and esteemed, none lament him more (except, perhaps, his relatives) him more (except, perhaps, his relatives) than the publisher of this paper, for he owes his life, on a particular occasion, to the boldness and humanity of Johnson. The North Carolina Standard thus ex-

Thomas Henderson was upset in a canoe, and was so near being drowned that life was nearly extinct when he was recovered. Jacob Johnson was on the bank, safe and secure. But he saw his friend drowning before his face. Thoughtless of life, he plunged in at the hazard of his own life. He did finally succeed in saving his friend, but both were nearly exhausted when they reached the shore. The statement in regard to Jacob Johnson being "esteemed for his honesty, sobriety, industry, and humane, friendly disposition," is concurred in by the old inhabitants now living in this city. The grateful and generous tribute to his worth and goodness of heart is more to be valued and esteemed than "storied urn or animated bust." As such President Johnson may so regard it, and no doubt he does. That peculiar trait, so marked in the father—of devotion and attachment to a proved friend—the son seems to have inherited in an eminent degree. Those who have known him well and known him long concur in the statement that where his friends him and then the interior explored. The fugitive was soon found concealed in a pond about the center of the field, his head and shoulders only protruding from the water. He told his pursuers if they would not should give himself up, and accordingly did so, and was placed under guard. Justice Bond held an inquest over the dead body of the murdered man.

Both parties had been soldiers. Brown was formerly a member of the 79th Illinois regiment, but was discharged and returned home some time since. Marsh had but recently returned. It is said he had been engaged to marry a girl who resides in the neighborhood of the tragic occurrence, who him well and known him long concur in the statement that where his friendship and confidence are once secure, he allows no extraneous influences, no party violence, no whisperings of enmity, no reverses of fortune, to alienate his feelings.

Fearful Scene at Niagara --- Hairbreadth Escape from Death.

A correspondent of the Concord (N. H. Statesman writes:

Prof. Ruggles, of Dartmouth College, had a very narrow escape at Niagara Falls on Friday evening. While valking on Goat Island with a party of ladies, one of them dropped her parasol, which slid some fifteen or twenty feet down the bank of the teen or twenty feet down the bank of the river. Mr. Ruggles went down and picked it up, but on attempting to return, the bank being steep, and the ground hard, lost his footing and fell down to the very brink of the precipice, which at this point is eightly or ninety feet high. Here he caught hold of the roots of an upturned tree, the trunk of which hangs over the abyss. The shock caused the tree to shake violently, and it appeared on the point of falling over the precipice. The ladies shrieked for help, but no assistance was at hand. A movebut no assistance was at hand. A move-ment on the part of Mr. Ruggles, or a gust of wind, seemed sufficient to cause the tree to fall. At this critical moment one of the ladies took off her basquine and skirt, cut them into strips, got shawls and other ar-ticles of clothing from the rest of the party, tied them together, fastened a stone to the rope thus formed, and let it down to Mr. Ruggles, who, taking hold of it, walked slowly up the bank. It was a moment of fearful suspense. The rope was held firmly by the ladies above, but it might untie or break, and a fall of a hundred teet on the rocks below must be the inevitable result. rocks below must be the inevitable result. When Mr. Ruggles reached terra firma, his fair rescuer, who had shown such remarkable presence of mind, fainted, and was taken home in an unconscious state.

Hon. Wordy Wise on Emancipation. In his letter to General Grant, Wise says:
So far from my being opposed to the name
"freedmen," as indicating the condition of slaves freed by the war, the chief consolation I have in the result of the war is that slavery is forever abolished, that not only the slaves are in fact at last freed from bondthe slaves are in fact, at last freed from bo age, but that I am freed from them. Long before the war, indeed, I had definitely made up my mind actively to advocate emancipation throughout the South. I had determined, if I could help it, my descendants should never be subject to the humiliation I have been subject to by the weakness if not the wickedness of slavery; and while I cannot recognize as lawful and humans the violent and shocking media. mane the violent and shocking mode in which it has been abolished, yet I accept the fact most heartily as an accomplished one, and am determined not only to abide by it an acquiesce in it, but to strive by all the means in my power to make it benefi-cent to both races and a blessing especially to our country. I unfeignedly rejoice at the fact, and am reconciled to many of the worst calamities of the war, because I am worst calamities of the war, because I am now convinced that the war was a special providence of God, unavoidable by the nations at either extreme, to tear loose from us a black idol from which we could never have been separated by any other means than those of fire and blood, sword and

At the celebration of the Fourth of July in Buenos Ayres, Mr. Helper, in enforcing the fact that the rebellion was not a struggle between sections, but a national strug-gle against rebellion, mentioned the names of seventy-three Southern Generals who had served in the United States army dur-ing the late war, whilst several Generals in the rebel army were of Northern birth. Four, at least, of the most famous names in the National navy during the war, were of Southern nativity: Farragut, of Tennessee: Porter, of Louisiana; Goldsborough, of the District of Columbia; and Winslow, of North Carolina.

"Satisfactory Evidence of Present Loyalty." [For the Union Press

Many Southern correspondents say "leading Southerners generally take the oath solely because it might he p them in saying or recovering their property. They consider it of no binding force, and few would observe it if they fancied it conflicted with their interests. This feeling is wide-spread. A rebellion that began in disregard of all oaths created a sentiment that does not regard perjury as an offense. The rebellion ends as it began, in rendering, as far as it can, the action of the Government in administering these obligations the broadest farce."

We ask, then, the Journal chief if me We ask, then, the Journal chief if mere oath-taking of all rebels or ex-rebels is "giving satisfactory evidence of their present loyalty," of their determination hereafter to consult the South's peace and prosperity, instead of distraction and ruin? Why, even the sworn Journal local, with all his unsatisfactory signs of present loyalty, admits this much:

"It is a disgraceful fact that some persons who have returned from the rebellion don't regard their oaths as binding. Perhaps they regard their oaths as binding. Perhaps they think like Hudibras:

'He who imposes an oath breaks it, Not he who for convenience takes it.'"

We submit that "expressing penitence and regret" in asking pardon and taking the pardon-oath is not in many cases sufficiently satisfactory evidence of present loyalty. Especially all the conspirators, originators and persistent leaders in the rebellion should for a propagatory, to make the constitution of the constitution o should for a probationary term do works meet for repentance—demonstrate their loy-alty by their deeds before any of them are re-erfranchised and reinstated in all the rights, privileges and immunities of true and loyal citizens of the United States.

Tragedy in Coles County, Iil .-- Jealousy and Murder-- Flight and Capture of the Murderer.

[From the Charleston (Ill.) Courier, Sept. 6.] Sunday afternoon, Gifford Brown and Joseph March, both of this county, met at a singing school held at Prairie Chapel, near Kansas, when the latter invited the former to take a walk with him. The invitation was accepted and the two left the crowd and went around into the rear of a corn-field, about a quarter of a mile from the meeting house. Soon after the discharge of a pistol was heard in that direction, and March came running in a very excited manner towards the meeting house, mount-ed his horse and dashed off. The bystanders rushed in the direction of where they heard the report of the pistol, to see what had happened. On arriving at the spot they found the lifeless body of Brown lying weltering in his own blood.

A gentleman who happened to be riding A gentleman who happened to be riding up in full view of the two, but who was unperceived by them, states that at the time of the tragic occurrence Brown was standing with his knife out whittling on a fence rail, when March deliberately drew his pistol and discharged it, the ball taking effect behind the left ear, and producing instant death. This statement was corroborated by the fact that the knife was found lying. plains the concluding lines in the above by the fact that the knife was found lying open, as it fell from the hand of the dead man; a fresh notch was also observed in a excited manner and rapid flight. Pursuit on the return of Brown plighted her affections to him.

Marsh rode up to the object of his passion Sunday, afternoon, just as she was coming out of the gate leading to her fath-er's residence, and asked her if he could accompany her to church. She told him that he could, but that her company was engaged for the return. He asked her "by whom, Brown?" and on receiving an ai-firmative answer, and having previously learned that the parties were engaged, he replied that he "intended to kill him before Sundown!" Stung to the quick by the reply, with the green-eyed monster, jealousy rankling in his bosom, he dashed off, only thinking of revenge, swift, sure and terrible.

The young lady intended to communicate the threat to her lover, but unfortunately no opportunity offered, and the exasperated and defeated aspirant to her hand, seized upon the first opportunity to execute his deadly threat in the summary manner above narrated.

The examination of the prisoner before a Justice's Court was not concluded till Tues day afternoon, when he was brought in un-der a guard of four men on the six o'clock train, and committed to jail to await his trial before the next term of the Circuit Court. A Neg.o Tragedian in England. The London correspondent of the New York Times, gossiping about actors and plays, says: While the political and social destiny of our emancipate i fellow-citizens of the Africo-American race is still a problem, we are enjoying at one of the most fashionable theaters in London the representations of an Ashantee tragedian, who is also a Russian noble. I refer to the Chevalier Ira sian noble. I refer to the Chevalier Ira Aldridge, who is playing Othello at the Haymarket, with a sprig of English nobility, Hon. Lewis Wingfield, as a member of the company. The Chevalier Aldridge has had a remarkable career, and is one of the most successful actors in the world. He was born in Africa, the son of an African Prince, and educated for a missionary, but developing dramatic talents he adopted the stage, and has played with the most disstage, and has played with the most distinguished success in nearly every country in Europe, especially in Russia, where he was ennobled and otherwise warmly en-couraged by the late Emperor. Who knows what flowers of genius may blush unseen in Ashantee and Dahomey, Georgia and Alabama, which may be brought to the light of day and the appreciation of the world by the Freedmen's Bureau or some similar enlightened agency.

We find the following in the Rochester

A book will probably appear within a short time, giving the facts in the history of Dr. Kane, the Arctic navigator, which have hitherto been shrouded in mystery. It is true that he was for years engaged to Miss Margaret Fox, one of the young ladies who presented the phenomena of "spirit rapping." Dr. Kane fell in love with the young girl while she was sitting as a public medium in Philade'phia, in 1830

One (1) Wharfshe was fifteen years of age. With her mother's consent he removed her from all association with the Spiritualists, and placed her in a private school near Phila-delphia, to remain during his absence in the Arctic regions. On his return in 1855, they were to have been married; but the opposition of Dr. Kane's family was such that Miss Fox released him from his engagement. He loved her, however, too well to live without her; and in April, 1856, the engagement was re-newed, with the understanding that it should be kept secret till the publication of Dr. Kane's great work should realize an in dependence for him. In October, 1856, his physician having ordered Dr. Kane to England, he was secretly married to Miss Fox, and made his will, leaving $5000 to her in a private trust to his brother. His last letter was addressed to her.

This legacy was not paid, and some injurious reports having been raised, Mrs. Kane's legal advisers urged a suit for a dower as the widow, and the publication of dower as the widow, and the publication of a memoir. One was prepared, embodying 134 of Dr. Kane's letters, and Mr. Carleton had it in press, when the publication and suit were both stopped by a compromise with the brothers and executor of Dr. Kane; they agreeing to pay the lady the interest of the money left her, and a sum down to repay her expenses, provided she would discontine the suit in the Orphans' Court, Philar elphia and would seal up the letters Philacelphia, and would seal up the letters, with the MS. memoir, and place them in the hands of a trustee, who would surren-der them to the Kane family at her death. A bond was signed by the Kanes in 1862, for the observance of the terms they agreed to, Mrs. Kane being permitted to reclaim her letter, &c., in the event of their failure her letter, &c., in the event of their failure to pay the quarterly installment of interest. This agreement was violated by their refusal to pay—first the sum promised for her expenses, then the quarterly installments, and in June last Mrs. Kane reclaimed her letters of the trustee. She is now at liberty to publish the volume which is to establish her fair fame, and to show the world a singular example of faithful love, enduring through unkindness and calumny. The death of Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Kane's mother, has retarded the publication, but mother, has retarded the publication, but it will doubtless appear in good time.

Possibly.

The Richmond Bulletin, speaking of Stonewall Jackson, says: "Possibly a prejudice may exist in their minds (those of loyal people) against General Jackson—a prejudice growing out of the fact that he drew the sword in the late war against the United States." Well, yes, we should think it not unlikely. We are not inclined to think as well of General Stonewall Jackson, for instance, as of our dead McPherson, for instance, as of our dead McPherson, or Mitchell, or Wadsworth, or Kearny, or Reno, or Reynolds, or Rice, or Sill, or Mansfield, or Lyon. Any one of them is his superior in true manliness of character. Indeed, we are so "prejudiced" that we value more highly the memory of the lowest private who died under the flag of the Union, than we do that of a man who, educated at his country's expense, used the training he thus received in a vain attempt to humiliate the flag which he had sworn to honor and uphold, and to destroy the country to which he had sworn to bear faithful allegiance. If men are to be honored for the possession of energy alone, of course Jackson will be highly esteemed; but if the use they have made of their energy is to be inquired into, then Jack son will get admiration, but not esteem. Benedict Arnold was one of the ablest and bravest Generals on our side in the revolutionary war; but all his genius and bravery have not sufficed to conquer the "prejudice" which men have against turncoats and traitors,—N. Governor Sharkey's Militia---The Letter of President Johnson. The following is the letter of President

Johnson to Governor Sharkey, of Mississippi, in regard to Slocum's recent order:

sippi, in regard to Slocum's recent order:

It is believed there can be organized in each county a force of citizen militia to preserve order and enforce the civil authorities of the State and of the United States, which would enable the Federal Government to reduce the army, and withdraw, to a great extent, the forces from the State, thereby reducing the enormous expenses of the Government.

If there was any danger from an organization of the citizens for the purpose indicated, the military are there to suppress, on the first appearance, any move insurreccated, the military are there to suppress, on the first appearance, any move insurrectionary in its character. One great object is to enduce the people to come forward in the defense of the State and the Federal Government. General Washington declared that the people, or the militia, was the arm of the Constitution, or the arm of the United States, and, as soon as it is practicable, the original design of the Governmentshould be resumed under the principles of the great charter of freedom, handed down to the people by the founder of the Republic. The people must be trusted with their government, and if trusted, my opinion is, that they will act in good faith, and restore their former constitutional reopinion is, that they will act in good lattin, and restore their former constitutional relations with all the States composing the Union. The main object of Major General Carl Schurz's mission to the South was to Carl Schurz's mission to the South was to aid as much as prasticable, in carrying out the policy adopted by the Government for restoring the States to their former relations with the Federal Government. It is hoped such aid has been given. The proclamation authorizing the restoration of State Government, requires the military to aid the Provisional Governor in the performance of his duties as prescribed in the proclamation, and in no manner to interfere or throw impediments in the way of the or throw impediments in the way of the consummation of the object of his appointment, at least without advising the Government of the intended interference.

Patrick for the State Treasuryship of New York on the Democratic ticket, was received here with a howl of surprise and indignation by every man conversant with the administration of the Provost Marshal's Department of the Army of the Potomac. That office was persistently, and obstinately, and openly against the private soldiers of the Union army, and oppressively engineered against every representative of the loval newsparer press of the North and West Live ss of the North and West. It re pressed and discouraged the vigorous pros-ecution of the war, fostered sympathy with the rebellion, and held up slavery with both hands. The newspaper men in Wash ington, without distinction of party, regard Patricks' nomination as an outrage on their profession and a defiance of the public sentiment of the army, which writhed and suffered under his tyranny.

President's reconstauction plan. At the murder or arson, and failed, had lost none lost none of their "rights," that they are of secession applies to its effects upon entitled to representation in Congress by national authority, and can apply to nothof their "domestic affairs." They deduce cape from the legitimate sway of the Nasixth resolutions of the Ohio platform are as

5. Resolved, That their ordinances of secession being void, the so-called seceded States are still in the Union as States, and states are still in the Union as States, and are therefore entitled to all the reserved rights of the States, and to their due representation in Congress, and to vote at future elections for President and Vice President; elections for President and Vice President; and any attempt of the General Govern-ment, or any part thereof, to deprive them of these rights, would be an assault upon the rights of every State in the Union, and an effort to overthrow the Government ordained by the Constitution.

6. Resolved, That to each State belongs the right to determine for itself the qualifi-cations of its electors, and the General Gov-ernment cannot, nor can any department thereof, interfere directly or indirectly with the exercise of this right, without a palpa-ble violation of the Constitution, and of the reserved rights of the States.

The other State platforms of the party are invulnerable and inalienable character of these rights. And yet for certain bamand partly expresses the complete forfeiture of the rights here enumerated, and the neessity of having the powers involved in said rights, conceded as a free-will offering, an amnesty-gift to the inhabitants of the rebellious section, as the first step in the restoration of that section to its old place in the Union. The President in his amnesty proclamation has very properly disfranchised a certain class of citizens, has undertaken to determine the "qualifications" of voters in the rebel States, and has interfered very directly in the exercise of this right" to vote. He has also interfered with the "reserved rights of States" in the little matter of regulating the "domestic system of labor," rather extensively than otherwise.

He requires of late citizens in the reorganizing States, as preliminary to the most rudimentary exercise of citizenship, that they shall take a solemn oath to uphold the proclamation of emancipation, which sweeps off at a breath one of those "reserved rights" which has always been so precious in the eyes of the Democracy, and which that party has for two years, strenuously held to be wholly beyond the reach of the Executive, whether in time of peace or war. They have announced the entire unconstitutionality and impotence of the proclamation, with much profane emphasis. It is not contended that the amendment to the Constitution has yet been ratified by the requisite number of States to make it a part of the Constitution. Unless therefore the Proclamation abolishes slavery in the rebel the citizens to swear that it is, is in that case something of an infringement on the reserved right aforesaid.

President Johnson's plan of reconstruction is based upon the assumption that the State governments have been swept away by the war. What is the significance otherwise, of Provisional Governors, and all the successive processes for forming a new State government? Butagain, so comon executive clemency and conce the necessary power to form new ones, that important features in the new are dictated to them by that Executive. If such facts comport with the unimpaired rights of States, we fail to see it. What, metaphysically considered, the exact status of these States may be, whether they have commited suicide or not, or have become so much territory or not, is a more curious than practical question. President Lincoln hit the matter in its practical bearings when he said that if "they are not out of the Union. they are out of their proper relations to the Union." And therein consists the problem of their restoration to the Union.

Something has to be done with them, some changes have to be wrought in their political condition before they can resume selfgovernment or regain representation in the National Government. These changes are similar in kind, but greater in extent than those required for the conversion of a Territory into a State. They are indicated to the States by national authority, and national authority will have to judge of their satisfactory completion. The present move ment in the rebel States is one towards the ultimate acquisition of rights that have been confessedly forfeit. The people and their leaders so understand it. They are now exercising political privileges conceded to them, preliminary to putting themselves in an attitude for asking the full restoration of political rights, which they frankly admit are now lost. As States in the Union they will never again have rights until these are conferred by the National Government. A right that has been forfeited is no longer inherent. It has to be restored by some competent authority before it can be again exercised.

We see no reason why State rights furnish any exception to this principle. What is a State? Is it the area enclosed within the State boundary lines? If so, let us quit talking about "rights" in this connection. We know nothing of rights except as pertaining to sentient and responsible General Fiske, Assistant Commissioner beings. A State then, is, politically speak-of Freedmen, addressed a large assemblage ing, composed of the inhabitants occupy-of ex-slaveholders at Spring Hill, Tenn., on beings. A State then, is, politically speaktants of the revolted States by their rebellion forfeited their rights as citizens of the Republic. To deny this, is to condemn every step thus far taken by the President in restoring those States to the Union. And to approve the latter, is to affirm the former. If these inhabitants, then, have no rights of citizenship but such as amnesty confers, by what juggle have the States which these people constitute retained unblemished and unimpaired their rights, in a struggle that has proved so fatal to individual rights? It requires that subtlety which finds a warrant for human slavery in the American Declaration of Indepen dence, which approves the acts of the Chief Magistrate, and condemns the principle upon which, and the agents by whom these icts are performed, to answer the question Governor Johnson, of Georgia, tells his people that in the restoration of a civil polity and social order to their State, they must accept the terms of the conqueror with whom they have been at open strife. That having appealed to arms against that conqueror and been defeated, they have no rights left but the right to sue for peace, and ask for the best terms they please in the establishment of peace. This he gives

EFFECTS OF SECESSION ON RIGHTS as a legal opinion, being himself an eminent jurist. The fifth resolution of the Democratic Conventions are everywhere Ohio platform is as absurd as would be the resolving approval and support of the assumption that a man who had attempted same time they resolve with equal explicit- of his rights because his efforts had proved ness that the States lately in revolt have "null and void." The "null-and-yoid"ness virtue of these rights, and to the regulation | ing else. States cannot secede, cannot esthese doctrines from the fact that secession tional Government and their own obligawas an illegal, unconstitutional act, and is tions to that Government. But that they therefore null and void, now that it has can upset their own authority as constituent proved abortive de facto. The fifth and portions of that Government, and forfeit their rights to participate in it, is the very meaning and occasion of President John son's plan of reconstruction.

The everlasting and immesurable impudence of the Democracy in its selfgratulations over the issues of the war, and its vigorously polite compliments to the soldiers for their patriotism, heroic and persevering valor in securing those issues. is a study for psychologists. These rascals are resolving all manner of felicitous and fine things respecting the success of our arms, the thanks due to our armies, and the glorious triumph of the Union through war. One year ago they were resolving in an equally animated way that war, as a method of restoring the Union, is a failure, besides being a horrible oppression; an eclipsing calamity to the whole country only were they theorizing thus, but they were doing their devilish utmost to make their theories take substantial shape in events. They opposed every method of increasing the army and keeping up its supplies. They showed themselves, in short, blatont traitors the street theories and the short of the street the street that the street the street that the stre were doing their devilish utmost to make boozling purposes they nearly all express approval of a plan which fully implies, events. They opposed every method of inblatant traitors throughout the long dismal struggle. Now they call on mankind to witness how neatly "we" have knocked treason into a cocked hat! They are a sweet set. We should think patriots would rush to their embrace.

CITY AND GENERAL NEWS.

FEMALE EDUCATION .- Accepting the proposition that great and good men are rarely borne of other than great and good women, it is a matter of more importance to the community and interest to parents that the daughters of a family should be carefully trained and educated than the ons. Schools for young ladies abound, but how careful should the parent be in making choice of one but calculated to develop and train in proper proportions and relations the body, mind and heart of the daughter. We suggest to our readers an examination of the claims of Robinson Institute, at Lexington, Ky., advertised in another column. Prof. Mullins is an experienced and successful educator, and in our judgment combines qualifications for his work rarely found in one person.

To-day's exhibition will be one of great interest to farmers, as it will be devoted to the exhibition States, it is not abolished. And to require of cattle, sheep and hogs. ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING,-One of those laby the careless handling of fire arms took place yesterday in the clothing store of Jacob Simon on Market street, between | tor of Henry Lehman; Ben. Dertsch su Brook and First streets. A number of the 53d Kentucky had entered the store to make some purchases, when one of the number was accidentally shot by a young man named Wolf, who was carelessly handling a loaded revolver. Wolf, after the accident, was so badly scared that he escaped. Another clerk in the house was arrested, but was subsequently released. SAD OCCURRENCE.—We are pained to announce the death of a little son of Mr. Jos. boy was only five years of age, and met his death from an accidental wound with a dirk knife. The knife was in possession of a small party of boys on Saturday, and after having passed from hand to hand was laid on the bed. The boys having forgotten the whereabouts of the knife, jumped upon the bed and were playing unconscious of danger, when the knife was accidentally run into the side of Mr. Lieber's son. From the effect of this wound the little boy died yesterday morning.

Attracted by the martial strains of Lieut. Halev's Band we found our way into the Ladies' Fair last evening, and found the large Hall of Masonic Temple all aglow with light, and that light revealed a scene of beauty rarely seen. The arrangement of the Hall is complete, and articles rare and beautiful deck every table. The voting for the silver service is very scattering, ministers of nearly every denomination being mentioned in the ballotts. We promise strangers and our citizens a pleasant evening when they visit Masonic Temple. COLONEL ORLANDO H. MOORE.-The numerous admirers in Kentucky of this gallant officer will be gratified to learn that the President has conferred on him a brevet Lieutenant Colonelcy in the regular army, for meritorious services in the field. The hero of Tibb's Bend, of Franklin, Tennessee, and the capturer of Fort Anderson, deserved this promotion richly, but his friends in Kentucky and in the field would have been pleased if the grade had been much higher. THE JEFFERSONVILLE HOMICIDE.-Mr. Daniel Cleveland, the man who was shot in Jeffersonville on Sunday, died at a quarter past eleven o'clock yesterday. Mr. Cleveand had served four years and one day in the Federal army, and had just been discharged on Saturday. He was about seven feet eight inches high, and at one time was exhibited through the country as a giant. We learn that he was a quiet, orderly citien. He will be buried to-day by Jefferson Fire Company No. 1.

Major Drye, who has been acting Provost Marshal of the city for some time, vesterday received orders to join his regiment, and was relieved by Capt. Priestly, of the 30th Wisconsin. Capt. P. has many friends in the city, who will be glad to know that he has succeeded to this responsible posstion.

Major Drye has conducted the business of the office in a splen did manner, and to the complete satisfaction of every one, We wish him success in civil life.

An Alabama paper says that on the 26th ult. Capt. D. M. Dobson, of the 149th Indiana volunteer infantry, was passing Lieber, merchant on Main street. The little along the street in Somerville, Ala., when a young negro man came stealthily up behind him, and with an ax felled him to the ground, and then fled, leaving the ax sticking in the head of his victim. The blow was fatal, killing Captain Dobson instantly. The negro was soon caught and lodged in confinement, and strong efforts were made to elicit some reason for the atrocious act, but without avail, except Capt. Dob son had obliged the negro to bring three pitchers of water during the day, and that the negro said he would not be a servant for a damned Yankee. On the evening following, the soldiers and other persons-we are not informed-who took the prisoner from the pos session of his guards and hung him. We direct the attention of our citizens and the public to the advertisement of the Glasgow Petroleum Company in another column. They are down over two hundred feet in gray sandstone, and everything working well. There are but a few more shares of stock in this company for sale Parties would do well to invest at once. NEW AGRICULTURAL JOURNAL .- It has seemed strange that Kentucky—one of the first agricultural States of the West, and the leading stock-raising State in the Union -has had no agricultural paper published within her borders for years. We are pleased to learn, however, that the want is about to be supplied by H. M. McCarty & Co., who are now making arrangements to commence a first class farming journal.

THE SHOOTING AFFAIR SUNDAY NEAR LYON GARDEN.-There were one or two errors in our account of the shooting on Sunday. No one was injured in the camp of the soldiers. The shooting by the par ties in the buggies was unprovoked. The soldiers who captured Whitesides delivered him over to the Provost Marshal.

BARREN COUNTY

There are nine'een tracts, comprising eighteen hundred and nineteen acres of which four tracts, of three hundred and ninety acres, are situated on Boyd's creek in the immediate vicinity of two wells, one belonging to the Germania Oil Company producing about seventy five barrels per day, and the other belonging to the Boyd's Creek (il Company yielding over fitty barrels per day.

There is one tract of one hundred and fifty three acres, situated on Skegg's Creek, within a short distance of the place of operation of another well in progress, owned by one of the above companies. situated on Skegg's Greek, within a short distance of the place of operation of another well in progress, owned by one of the above companies.

There are four tracts of three hundred and fifteen acres situated on Peter's Creek, a short distance south of the above tracts, having several oil springs upon them, and are said to be equal, if not sup rior, to any of the above tracts, and are well adapted to boring.

There is one tract of two hundred acres on Swanigan's Fork, a tew miles southeast of Glasgow, and at the head waters of Boyd's Creek, which is pronounced to be fine oil territory. There are three tracts of one hundred and it y acres, situated on the west branch of South Fork of Beaver Creek, about one mile southwest of Glasgow, which possess remarkably good surface indications.

The remaining tracts of land in Barren county are situated within a short distance of the other tracts, and in the neighborhood o. Bord's and Skegg's Greek. Allo: the territory belonging to the company in Barren county have good surface indicatins, and are all bottom lands, having been lessed at a carly day, when every opportunity was had for selecting the best. The leases run from thirty to thirty-five years, with a royalty of one-tenth to the lessor and from three to five years to commence operations.

METCALF COUNTY

There are five tracts, embracing seven hundred and six acres, of which four tracts of five hundred and ninety-six acres are situated on Lry Fork at South Fork of the little Barren River, and are considered as among the best oil territory in that section. The remaining tract of one hundred and ten acres is situated on South Fork of Little Barren river, and is said to be good oil territory. All of the lands belonging to the company were selected by competent per one, with great care, having lessed none but the best oil territory, and lie along the line which is substantially maintained to be a correct line of subterraneous disturbances forming reservoirs for oil which has recently been demonstrated by a flowing well and pumping well of very superior oil.

The company, having procured a competent man from oil dreek, Pennsylvania, and one of Amslie & Cochrane's superior portable engines, with all necessary appurtenances, are now borning on William Morrison's tract of one hundred acres on Boyd's Creek, and have no doubt about the result.

Judge si ter and Mr. J. B. Bedding, of Glasgow, both directors, will give the operations of the company their constant attention.

Destitution in Virginia. The Richmond Republic, one of the ablest, truest and most reliable Union jour-New Albany Rolling Mill nals of Virginia, gives a distressing picture of the condition of the people of that unhappy State. Here is the Republic's state-

> The poverty and sufferings of the people in Virginia, great enough already to melt the sternest nature, bid fair to assume proportions of horror in the appraaching winter which it curdles the blood to contemplate. We speak from personal knowledge when we state that families once in affluence, and which bear the names of some of the best and wisest men of former days, have been dependent for support since the evacuation of Richmond on rations issued by the United States Government. But for the liberality of that Government, starvation— literal starvation—would have swept mul-titudes of our people from the face of the earth. Unfortunately, the Government, however humane its disposition, is unable to continue this assistance to the vast num-bers whom it has hitherto relieved. What those numbers are we cannot state with accuracy, but it is certain that they comprise a very large proportion of the population. Money is scarce; the means of subsistence are high; the wheat crop throughout the South is comparatively a failure, and though the corn crop is unusually fine for the area cultivated, yet that area, owing to the obstructions to planting from various causes, is exceedingly limited. It makes the heart bleed to think of the sufferings which, if some efficient measures are not adopted for relief, may be the terrible lot of thousands of our people, when the rigors of winter shall aggravate the horrors of the present destitution.

Atlanta,

Atlanta, says a Georgia correspondent, is rising, phœnix-like, from her ashes. New buildings are being erected by Northern men, and large stocks of goods are being received daily. The Gate City Hotel—the only one of consequence in the city—is filled to overflowing with strangers who pay four dollars a day for "subsistence," and sleep either three in a bed or on the floor. The halls and rooms are covered with mattresses, and here the poor victims have a tresses, and here the poor victims have a chance to snatch a little rest and sleep-if the musquitoes will let them. Atlanta seems to be the great center of attraction for emi-grants from the North, and hundreds of them are flocking in daily, with no objects in view but to look for a "location." Ground sells here for one-half more than it did before the war. One piece of ground, upon which stood a large hotel, which was offered, building and all, for fifty thousand dolars before the war, is now held by the owner at eighty thousand dollars, with no building, it having shared the fate of many others when Sharman paid his respects to the ing, it having shared the fate of many others when Sherman paid his respects to the place. I think there is no doubt but it will be the metropolis of the seaboard States in a short time though it seems to me they are crowding it a little too fast. Most of the buildings erected are upon leased ground, and per consequence, only temporary structures. Should we remain here over to-morrow I will tell you more of Atlanta after. row I will tell you more of Atlanta after have looked about.

Guerrillas on the Nashville Railroad-Train Attacked--Address by Gen, Fiske --Freedmen in Tennessee.

Nashville, September 11.—Last night the train which left Louisville at 6 P. M., when within the limits of Davidson county this side of Edgefield Junction was attacked by a band of guerrillas, who fired into the train when passing, but fortunately doing no damage, nor causing the train to halt. The marauders are believed to be from Sumner county, and doubtless in search of plunder.

Gen. Thomas will hereafter provide sufficient force to prevent any detention of rail-road trains, and to punish the robbers. A road trains, and to punish the robbers. A large force since the suppression of the re-bellion not having been thought necessary. Gen. Fiske, Assistant Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, addressed a large the Freedmen's Bureau, addressed a large assemblage of former slave owners at Spring Hill on Saturday last, numbering over five hundred. His remarks were calculated to define the position of the Government and the object of the Bureau, which is to establish between planters and blacks a system of labor and compensation satisfactory to both. His remarks were received with much applause by the listeners.

Great activity exists in Gen. Fiske's Department in the matter of providing homes for the blacks who swarm in this city to the number of several thousand.

Conference of Leading Republicans-Thurlow Weed--Policy of the Party.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Commercial' Washington special says leading Republicans have gathered in that city to consider their policy in the fall elections and the new Congress. The difference of opinion is wide and excites an angry controversy Thurlow Weed is playing a prominent part. He warns the radicals that they will be expelled from power if they attempt to force their views upon the people. It is doubtful whether the conflicting elements can be Senator Wilson, in behalf of the New England Republicans, seems to refuse all compromise. The majority in Congress will resist the admission of the Southern States, and eventually appeal to the people against President Johnson's policy.

The Conservative Republicans propose to meet the difficulty in the case of the New York Democratic nominations by nominating Gen. Slocum, and Patrick and Lu cius Robinson, leading New York Republi-cans, have had numerous interviews with Secretary Seward, with whom the project has been discussed. The Radicals have been reinforced by Gen. Butler, and a lively time is expected.

Gold Market.

New YORK, September 11.—The Commercial says: The supply of gold being heavily drawn upon by the demand for duties for the South, and for foreign export, it is imthe South, and for foreign export, it is impossible to say whether the Sub-Treasury is selling, secresy being observed in these operations. The most scrupulous merchants, in this secret management of the public business, can form no opinion as to the probable movements of the Treasury in the restre of selling gold and therefore on the matter of selling gold, and therefore can not judge as to the probable course of the premium. If the Government should sell fitteen millions of gold within the next sixty days, it is likely it would present a sixty days, it is likely it would present a rise of five per cent. in premium; but who can say whether or not that will be the policy of the Secretary of the Treasury. This uncertainty is very embarrassing to buyers of gold and exchange, and indeed to the mercantile community generally. The price was seady to-day at 144%.

Wilz Trial--Proceedings Yesterday-Testimony of Gen. Wilson.

Washington, Sept. 11.—Mr. Baker asked that a message be dispatched for certain witnesses for the defense. The court decided the question would be decided by the production of affidavits from the prisoner as to what he expected to prove. Baker made exceptional remarks which involved the integrity of some of the witnesses and imputed unworthy motives. The court gave time to Baker to make good his assertion.

Gen. Wilson testified the officer whom he sent to arrest Wirz was not authorized to promise him anything except he should not be killed or hanged on his way, and he believed that Maj. Noyes did prevent him being killed by his guards at Chattanooga. After the record of Saturday had been read, Mr. Baker brought to the attention of the Commission a matter in relation to witnesses for the defense, which he thought it would be better to attend to.

The Judge Advocate suggested to him that it might be a subject outside of his own authority, and therefore properly belonging to the Court. Some time before this trial commenced the gentleman who were acting for the prisoner as his counsel requested that several witnesses should be sent for, as defense in order to meet new points which had been brought up. The Indian Council at Fort Smith. FORT SMITH, ARK., September 8.—Judge Cooley read an address to the Indians in council to-day, which was responded to by the Cherokees to the effect that they had no power to treat, but would refer any propotion the Government would make to their national council. Responses from other tribes of a similar character were made. The Indians now here only represent the minority. These expected those who went with the South will be here in a day or two, when it is expected that amicable arrange ments will be made between themselves, as well as the Government. Definite plans will be proposed to-morrow, for which de-cided answers will be demanded.

The time of the Indian council yesterday The time of the Indian council yesterday was taken up in reading the stipulations to be imposed by the Government upon all tribes in the Southwest. The stipulations propose a grand consolidation of all tribes into one nation, the territory of which shall be the present Indian territory, and such other as the Government may decide upon the tribes now living in Kansas to be removed South; the Southwest tribes will be expected to compel the Indians of the plains to observe the treaties. The Indians now here say they understood they were called to meet the late rebel tribes and renew friendly relations with them and not to friendly relations with them, and not to make new treaties, which they say they are now doing, and unauthorized to do. None but loyal tribes are now here, but others are expected soon. Replies were made toare expected soon. Replies were made to-day by the delegations present to the pro-positions presented them yesterday. All speak favorably of the policy of the Gov-ernment and the renewal of friendly rela-tions. Maine Election.

PORTLAND, ME., Sept. 11.-The State election is proceeding very quietly to day, and a small vote will be polled. Indica-tions of the result cannot be given before evening.

The State election took place to-day and passed off very quiet. Up to this hour, 6 p. M., very few returns have come in, but they indicate that the State vote will probably not exceed 75,000, against 112,000 last year. not exceed 75,000, against 112,000 last year. The Republican majority will be about 15,000, against 19,000 last year. The official vote of Portland foots up for Gov. Coney, Republican, 1,771; Howard, Democrat, 708. Last year Portland gave Coney 2,769 and Howard 1,786. Republican majority this year 943, against 983 last year, with a falling off in the aggregate vote of 2,876.

South Carolina Election. NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Late advices from South Carolina state that the election of delegates to the State Convention passed off quietly on Tuesday. The majority of the members returned are conservatives. Wade Hampton and several officers of the late confederate army are re-dent gives an account of a grand banquet given last Saturday night in that place on the Atlantic and Great Western railroad to the English capitalists who arrived in this city on Tuesday last, and who are now on a tour of inspection of the public works and enterprises of this country and Canada. Some of them are largely interested in the Atlantic and Great Western railroad.

Mr. L'Hommedieu was present at the

Mr. L'Hommedieu was present at the banquet, and Mr. Reynolds, former President of the road, made a speech welcoming the distinguished guests, which was responded on their part by Sir Morton Peto. Other speeches were also made, and together with these, the handsome decorations of the room and the good things set before the company, a rare evening's treat was enjoyed. The Herald's special says: The Commisthe 2d provisional New York cavalry, 2d and 4th New York heavy artillery, 1st Connecticut heavy artillery, and 3d Massachusetts heavy artillery, are to be immediately mustered out. These troops are ordered to their respective State rendezvous, where they will receive their pay and final discharge.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—The steamers Guiding Star, Monterey, and George Wash-ington, from New York, have arrived. The Times' Jackson special says it is rumored that Gen. Slocum has tendered his resignation in consequence of the President's indorsement of Sharkey's action. It is predicted that the colored troops will be marched out of the State for muster out or

An engine and one passenger car were precipitated down a high embankment near Clinton, Miss. Fortunately, none were hurt. The Matamoras Monitor contains an interesting correspondence between Mejia and Steele. The former complains that Cortinas fired into a body of Imperialists, while the bandits were taking refuge in Texas. Steele replies, regretting the viola-tion of international law, stating that it was against his express injunction to Cortinas, who, he said, had complained of similar outrages on the part of Mejia's men.

New York, Sept. 11.—The Tribune's Washington special says: The Postmaster General is preparing a large number of proposals for carrying the mails throughout the South, and when these contracts are closed, post offices will be re-opened in most of the prominent towns and cities.

NEW YORK, September 11 .- The Savan nak Republican, of the 7th, contains an account of the murder of Captain Herster, of the 33d U. S. colored troops, at Augusta, on the night of the 26th, by three young men, members of three of the most respectable families of that place.
It appears that the Captain was discover-appears that the Captain was discovered in company with a mulatto girl, who was the mistress of one of the young men, and they all attacked him with their revolvers, one of the shots penetrating his neck and proving mortal. Not satisfied with this, they fell on his prostrate body, inflicting several ghastly cuts with their knives.

The affair had caused such wide-spread excitement that there was danger of a riot, and threats were made of burning the city. The murderers were arrested, and quiet

MEDICAL.

NOTICE. To those affilioted with Rheumatism. Scrotula, Gout, or Syphilis, I freely offer my leasure hours. For forty years past I have treated these cases with the most powerful combination in the vesselable kingdom under which influence the worst forms of Syphilish have quickly yielded, and but few cases of Rheumatism, Gout or Scrotula have long resisted its alterative and restorative powers. An'l new to convince the afflicted of the confidence I have in it, I say to them no cure no pay, and to avoid all quibble and unfairness of what constitutes a cure. I repeat it that no demand will be made along the property of the confidence of the confidence in the purest moture of the modern than the purest motives of humanity, knowing that there are many who hav spout their last dollar, and whose clinging torments under despet are still drugging them down to the arave. To such I offer new hopes and a probable escape at my own apense.

I have located at Crab Orchard Springs, on account of cheap board, tonic water, oure air and mountain security, with fine roads and inducements for exe cise. Yes, and above all, to get those all eady worn down with disease out of the taint disease out of the taint disease out of the taint disease for the cities. My remedy is exclusively of Flora's Kingdombelought to our earlier forests and is unknown to the medical world, except by Professor bush, of Lexington and by Professors bell and Miller, of Louisville, to whom I have myself made it knows; and, by-and-by, when experience shall justify it, details will be published to the faculty generally. It is powerfully potent, when properly applied, and consequently dangerous in the hands of careless and inexperienced pers.

CURE WARRANTED if directions are followed.

SYMPTOMS.

The Symtoms of Catarrh are at first very slight. Persons find they have a cold, then they have frequent at-tacks, and are more sensitive to the changes of tempera-ture. In this condition, the ness may be dry, or a slight discharge, thin and aerid, afterward thick and adhesive

May ensue,

As the disease becomes chronic, the discharges are increased in quantity and changed in quality; they are now thick and heavy, and are hawked or coughed off. The secretions are offensive, causing a bad breath; the voice thick and nasal; the eyes are weak; the sense of smell i lessened or destroyed; deafness frequently takes place. Another common and important symptom of Catarrh is that the person is obliged to clear his throat in the morning of a thick or slimy muceus, which has fallen from he head during the night. When this takes place the person may be sure that his disease is on its way to the lungs, and should lese no time in arresting it.

The above are but few of the many Catarrhal symptoms.
